Death Penalty Seminar

REV. BILLY MOORE

Rev. Billy Moore, death row exoneree from Rome, Georgia, will discuss capital punishment in the Moot Court Room at Cumberland School of Law on Thursday, January 28, 2010 at 3:30 PM.

Moore spent almost 17 years on Georgia's death row for a murder that he admits committing. He had his sentence commuted to life in 1991, after the victim's family spoke out against his execution. He was paroled a year later, making him the only death row prisoner who admitted his guilt to have been freed. He has spent the last 12 years determined to show that the death penalty is no solution to crime. The Georgia parole board, which can commute death sentences, did so for Moore at the urging of his victim's family and a number of other advocates, including Mother Teresa. Today, at age 57, he is a minister who lives in Rome, Georgia, and he travels the country to share his story.

The students, faculty and staff of Cumberland School of Law are invited to hear Moore's unbelievable story and share in a discussion regarding capital punishment in America. Rev. Moore will be a keynote speaker at the Alabama Criminal Defense Lawyers annual death penalty seminar to be held in Birmingham on January 29 and 30. Cumberland School of Law is a co-sponsor of this annual event where capital case defenders from around the Southeast will gather to learn the latest courtroom strategies for the defense.

Title Exam Workshop

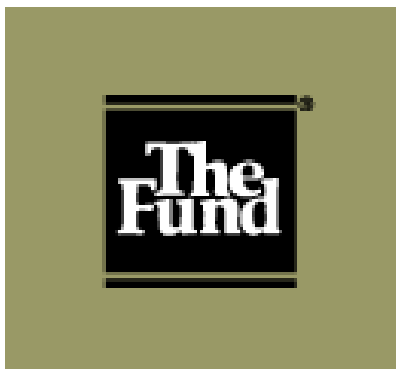

A Title Examination Workshop presented by the Attorneys' Title Insurance Fund, Inc. is scheduled:

Thursday, February 11, 2010

NOON in the Great Room

Lunch Will Be Provided

A real estate transaction involves many parties and the potential for numerous conflicts of interest. At its core, is the title to real property: its quality, and its transfer and/or encumbrance. Historically, the evaluation of the quality of title to real property, and the rendition of an opinion with respect thereto, has belonged to attorneys. Title insurance policies are issued based on the results of the title examination process. Attorneys earn a portion of the title insurance premium when they serve as an agent for a title insurance underwriter. In some areas of the country, a major source of attorneys' fees associated with real estate transactions is the title insurance premium. It is a "bread and butter" practice area for most attorneys in small firm practice. Knowing how to examine title to real property is thus an essential skill newly minted attorneys must have.

The Fund's Title Examination Workshop is designed to provide law students with an introduction to the knowledge and techniques necessary to accurately examine titles. The workshop will include the creation and review of a chain of title and a critical analysis of the documents in the title chain. It will also include an overview of the role of title insurance in transactions, an overview of the title insurance industry, and the types of coverage available.
